Dear Praying Friends

According to the Edmonton Journal, the city of Edmonton experienced the coldest February in 40 years. We knew that it was cold, but we just bundled up a bit more and did what needed to be done. We are thankful to be in the centre of God's will, even if that means cold temperatures!

Becky and I had the privilege to attend a Couple's Banquet at Cornerstone Baptist Church here in Edmonton. It was a real blessing to be able to participate in this gathering.

After our meeting with the Immigration Consultant in January, we have been looking toward getting everything in order for the next step in our immigration journey. Before we could get down to the business of making application to immigration, there was one important thing that needed to be done. As is usually the case, when we began working to accomplish that one thing, we found that there was another thing that needed to be done first. I am glad to report that we were able to accomplish everything that was required of us, and we are now waiting for Immigration to get back to us with further information that will enable us to move forward to the next step. PLEASE PRAY WITH US ABOUT THIS! Our current paperwork runs out in mid-July, and we want to have this done long BEFORE we approach that date.

There were a number of things (of a business nature) that needed to be personally cared for in the US, so we took a "quick" trip down to Texas and back. We left Edmonton shortly after our Sunday afternoon services, and arrived in Lubbock on Tuesday morning. God blessed our time, and we were able to accomplish more than we had anticipated. It was a joy to be able to preach in our sending church, and give a report of all that the Lord is doing with us in Edmonton. We then left Lubbock on Friday morning and arrived home early Sunday morning. In some ways, I still feel like I have not recovered from the "jetlag" of this trip! We are thankful, however, for the safety and protection throughout our trip, and for all the good things that were accomplished.

Among the things that we were able to bring back with us, we were given some equipment that will be a blessing to our ministry and we are praying that we can use to be a blessing to other churches here in Alberta. We are looking forward to more opportunities to serve the Lord!

We are thankful for the visitors that keep coming back to our services. We are also thankful for the spiritual growth that we are seeing among those who attend our services. We know that proper decisions are being made for the Lord, and we are excited to see hearts surrendered to the Lord! Please pray that we will continue to see growth among our members, as well as among those who regularly attend our services.

We are thankful for your faithful prayer for us and the ministry here. We are asking you to continue to pray for God's continued blessing and direction!

The Night Cometh!
