July 2021

Dear Praying Friends,

The Christian life is filled with sowing and reaping; of seemingly endless labour and special times of great reward. June was a month filled with both sowing and reaping. We are thankful that we have been able to experience each moment and glorify the Saviour for it all.

At the beginning of June, we gave our "biometrics (fingerprints)" as the next step in our immigration journey. Giving biometrics is usually one of the final steps in the immigration process, which got us excited, but we have received no further information. We are still early in the process, and we understand that things are backed up in most government departments, so we continue to pray and trust the Lord to answer in His time.

We are still enjoying opportunities to fill the pulpit for other churches. I preached for the Paul Band Reserve Bible Baptist Church on one Sunday and at Vision Baptist Church on two other Sundays. Vision did vote to extend a call to the young man who came to candidate at the end of May and he accepted. Due to his current employment, he will not be "on the ground" until mid to late September. Of course, we will help to fill the pulpit until that time.

We are rejoicing in the milestone which James and Jared celebrated in early June as they graduated from our church college-level Bible Institute. Despite the restrictions, we had a nice group of people out to congratulate them on their achievement.

Since graduating, they have both taken on more aspects of the ministry than they were involved in previously. We are excited about what the Lord has for them, and would appreciate your prayers as God directs their next steps.

As of July 1, all provincial restrictions on church gatherings have been lifted. We are rejoicing in the freedom we now have to gather and have already enjoyed one church fellowship meal (proving that we are Baptist)! Please pray as we schedule other activities to encourage our faithful folks and to continually reach out to the lost.

We are thrilled with the visitors that are still attending and asking questions. We are praying that the Lord will direct them into His will and that they will grow in the Lord.

We are thankful for the privilege of representing the Lord in this place. Thank you for praying earnestly for us, as we strive to continue the work He has begun here.

The Night Cometh!
